Is Charles Darwin an Accomplice to Mass Murder?

Was Adolf Hitler, along with other genocidal mass murderers, influenced by the Theory of Evolution? Is America truly one nation under God, or a conflicted nation under Darwin? These are just some of the controversial questions posed to readers by Sharon Sebastian and Raymond G. Bohlin, Ph.D. in their newest book, Darwin's Racists - Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow.

Rooted in elitist and racist dogmas, Darwin's Theory of Evolution has infiltrated our schools. Are school children, along with society as a whole, being taught that only the more "fit" among us are worthy of living on the planet? What is the truth? Who is to decide who lives or dies based on a theory born out of discrimination against race, class and disability?

Sebastian is a writer in many genres in film and television. With a degree and background in communications, she is experienced in international marketing and public speaking. Questioning the ape to man chart at age twelve and finding no credible answers, she has held a deep curiosity about Darwinian evolution. She has now found answers the public must know.

Bohlin holds a doctorate in Cell and Molecular Biology, is President of Probe Ministries, a Discovery Institute Fellow, a graduate of the University of Illinois, The University of North Texas, and the University of Dallas. Having written several scientific books and articles, he makes public appearances speaking on the topic of the creation versus evolution debate along with other science-related issues.
